PAPIER MACHE AND CARTON PIERRE ENRICHMENTS MANUFACTORY
49 & 50, RATHBONE-PLACE.

GEORGE JACKSON and SONS beg the attention of Architects, Builders, Decorators, and others, to their large assortment of ENRICHMENTS in every style, executed in the highest class of art.—Enrichments for ceilings of every period, elaborate or simple, Gothic, Elizabethan, prodessitive or flat, Louis XIV. in every variety, and to any degree of cost; Italian and Greek, Renaissance and many modified styles, executed for the first houses, and from designs of architects of the highest eminence; wall dressings, rich panels of every period, Elizabethan and Gothic Dados, in many designs, chimney-pieces, mouldings, and drawings.

A large assortment of Gothic Bosses to many varied patterns of all sizes, tracery and panel headings for church works, organ drawings, of most periods, and faithfully executed to the traits of each.

The general decorations of Drawing and Dining Rooms, Libraries, &c., of very considerable extent, as furniture, glass frames, tables, window cornices, cornices, candelabras, and the whole range of accompaniments to Reception Rooms of the first class, as well as more subdued.

The facilities and reputed development of means enable GEORGE JACKSON and SONS to announce the execution of works of the above descriptions in these admirable materials at a cost considerably below any known method, while for quality, relief, and finish, they better themselves they stand unrivalled.

Two magnificent Vols. Imperial folio. Published at 10*l.* 10*s.*; reduced to 5*l.* 10*s.* Elegantly half-bound morocco, gilt leaves.

 The many favourable notices of this splendid book would fill a volume; the following are a few extracts:—

"This work is one of those rare productions of art which once extort admiration and defy criticism. It is not only the most splendid work of the kind that has yet been attempted in England, but it is, we believe, perfectly unique, and opens a new province in the region of decorative art to the student and amateur. The windows at Gouda are unanimously allowed, by the best judges and ablest connoisseurs, to be the perfection of that mode of painting, and of unsurpassable beauty in regard to execution and colouring."—Times.

"This is, in every sense of the word, a splendid book. The part of the volume devoted to an account of Albert Durer and his works is particularly interesting, and in the fullest and best notice of him we possess. Many magnificent specimens of painted glass are given, the plates measuring twenty inches in height, and richly coloured in imitation of the originals. Certainly more splendid examples of glass-painting could not be found. To conclude—the book is in every way worthy of patronage, and adds another to the long list of princely works produced by private spirit in this country."—Art-Journal.

"This publication is as splendid a "Prachtwerk" as has ever been produced in this country—one so truly magnificent in every respect, that it must throw the admirers of mediæval art into ecstasies."—Morning Herald.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Morning Post.

"A succinct description utterly fails in conveying any adequate notion of the elaborate research that must have been required for the compilation of these volumes, of the value of the suggestions that they embody, or of the archæological knowledge which the author has brought to bear on the subject of his disquisition. Some of the plates are in outline, but many are coloured, with a careful fulness of touch and brilliancy of effect altogether unusual, and all are so accurate as to be available, if necessary, for working models, from having been drawn to a scale."

Guardian.

"The present work supplies a great deficiency, and treats of the subject in such a way as is likely to be useful and interesting at once to the antiquary, the amateur, and the practical artist. Much confusion has hitherto arisen in treatises on glass painting from an ignorance on the part of the writers of the practical details of the art. This objection will not apply to the present work, for it contains a clear and succinctly detailed account of the process pursued in the different systems of glass-painting, the characteristic features of which are distinctly pointed out.

"The plates have been evidently most carefully selected, with a view to show the progress of the art from the thirteenth to the seventeenth century, and in execution and getting up are inferior to none which have hitherto appeared."

G. WILLIS, GREAT PIAZZA, COVENT GARDEN.

ANCIENT-HOUSE-FURNITURE

In order to supply the deficiency which has hitherto existed in Furniture suitable for the many Mansions that have been erected or restored in the MEDIÆVAL STYLES, Messrs. CRACE have directed their particular attention to this subject, and have prepared appropriate specimens in the various branches of Furnishing.

STUFFS for HANGINGS, in simple Worsted Damask, Silk; also in Tapestry of Baudekin.

CARPETS, plain or in rich Velvet pile, with appropriate Borders.

PAPER-HANGINGS of various kinds.

OAK CABINETS, Buffets, Octagon Library and Occasional Tables, Benches, Chairs, and other useful and appropriate Furniture.

They have also received from Messrs. HARDMAN, of Birmingham, samples of their Metal Work; Chandeliers, Sconces, Candlesticks for Tables, Salons, Flagons, and other Ornaments for Sideboards, after the manner of the Middle Ages.

The whole of the above-mentioned Furniture, &c. is designed after Ancient Authorities, and executed under the immediate superintendence of Mr. A. W. PUGIN, Architect.

To render this Furniture generally available, a considerable portion has been arranged in the simplest manner, consistent with its ancient character.
